VIRGINIA'S FIRST DAIRY INSTITUTE

State Dairy and Food Department Holds Meeting at Dayton.

Dayton, Va., has just been the scene of an innovation in the way of an institute. This was a meeting in the interest of the dairy industry, held under the auspices of the State Dairy and Food Department, Dairy Commissioner W. D. Saunders returned to Richmond yesterday.

The institute lasted for two days, three sessions of two hours each being held each day. Mr. Saunders was assisted by Professor W. K. Brainerd, of the Agricultural College at Blacksburg. Professor Ivan C. Weld, of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, and Peyton Rowe, of the Dairy and Food Department.

The subjects discussed the first day were: "Cream Separation and Improvement in the Dairy Herd by Breeding and Selection," by Professor Brainerd, and the "Proper Balance of the Dairy Ration," by Mr. Saunders. On the second day Professor Weld talked of the proper sanitation of the dairy and how it pays.

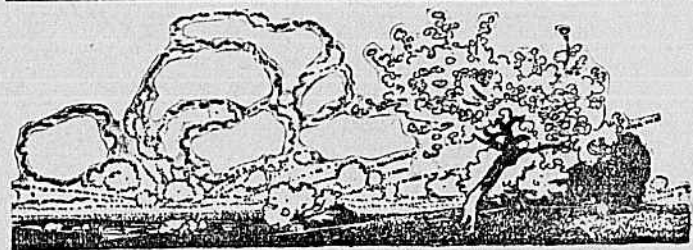

Practical Topics.
At the evening session Mr. Saunders discussed improvement of the farm as a result of the keeping of the dairy herd, while Mr. Rowe explained the nature of his work and its value to the dairy farmer. In the concluding meeting silo and silage, and also tuberculosis in the herd, were the topics for discussion. Professor Saunders spoke of the work of the last Legislature in the interest of the dairyman. He gave some of his experiences in connection with the creamery at Blacksburg.

More than fifty farmers attended the last meeting. Their appreciation was shown by the unanimous passage of a resolution asking that institutes of this character be held semi-annually. Mr. Saunders being requested to conduct one in October of this year.

Building Permits.
Building and repair permits were issued yesterday as follows: A. E. Elliott, to repair a brick store, 827 East Broad Street, to cost $400. Mrs. Alfred Gray, to repair a frame dwelling, 1008 Park Avenue, to cost $350.

Charles Wright, to repair a brick dwelling, 1624 West Gate Street, to cost $150. F. A. Wolf, to repair a frame dwelling, 304 South Linden Street, to cost $750.

Southern Railway Earnings.
Estimated earnings of the Southern Railway for the second week in April, according to a statement issued yesterday by Comptroller Plant, show an increase of $134,454 as compared with the corresponding week last year.

DR. JUAN GONZALES RENOUNCES FAITH

Former Catholic Priest Received as Candidate for Presbyterian Ministry.

FIVE CANDIDATES ACCEPTED

Judge Phillips, Formerly of Des Moines, Now a Student of Theology.

Two men of middle age, one a former Catholic priest and the other an attorney who has been a judge on the bench of a Western court, were received as candidates for the Presbyterian ministry by the East Hanover Presbytery yesterday, in session at the Church of the Covenant. Three young men were received as candidates for the ministry, and two ministers who have recently moved here were received into membership in the presbytery.

Judge F. W. Phillips, one of the candidates received, has been a successful lawyer and occupied the bench of one of the courts of Des Moines, Iowa. More recently he has lived in Canada. He is now studying theology at Union Theological Seminary, in Ginter Park. Dr. Juan Ortiz y Gonzales is a native of Spain, where he lived until recently. He was a Catholic priest, and for twenty-two years was a friar of the Franciscan Order. He has occupied several positions of honor in the Roman Catholic Church and has received special dispensations from the Pope. About a year and a half ago he came to this country, accepted the Protestant faith and united with the Presbyterian Church. He is also a student at Union Theological Seminary.

New Members Received.
Devotional exercises were conducted yesterday morning by Rev. J. R. Rennie. The matter of most general interest occupying the attention of the body was the reception of members and candidates for the ministry. Rev. D. J. Lilly, D. D., was received from Orange Presbytery, in North Carolina, and arrangements were made for his installation as pastor of the Grace Street Presbyterian Church, in this city. Rev. Walter W. Bain was received from Greenbridge Presbytery, in West Virginia, and will be installed as pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Crewe.

The presbytery examined and received under its care as candidates for the ministry, in addition to Judge Phillips and Dr. Gonzales, Plummer Smith, J. O. Mann and R. G. Lucke. Application was also received from Robert W. Miles, Jr., of this city, for reception as a candidate, but as he could not be present he will be received at some future time.

Name of Church Is Changed.
The Manchester Presbyterian Church was given the privilege of changing its name to the Porter Street Presbyterian Church, of Richmond. This is said to be the first church in South Richmond to take action recognizing the consolidation of Richmond and Manchester.

Caroline Church was given the right to change its name to Milford Church. The organization of two new churches since the fall meeting of the presbytery was reported—Union, in Brunswick county, and Genito, in Powhatan county.

Rev. J. E. Booker, superintendent of home missions for the Synod of Virginia, made an interesting address on the work which he has in charge. He stated that the work is in a very satisfactory condition, and that this presbytery has given during the last six months to D. C. cause $19,777.

Rev. E. B. McCluer, D.D., of Norfolk Presbytery, and Rev. W. S. Lacy, of Arkansas Presbytery, were introduced, and invited to sit as corresponding members.

The reports from the churches and the records of the sessions were presented and referred to the appropriate committees.

Dr. Rice Preaches.
At the night session a large congregation gathered to hear a sermon on "The Inspiration of the Scriptures," preached by Rev. Theron H. Rice, D. D. He had been appointed to this service by the presbytery at its meeting last fall. Dr. Rice took as his text 11. Timothy III. 16 and 17: "All Scripture is given by inspiration of God."

The sermon was a clear and strong presentation of the doctrine of the Presbyterian Church on this subject. This morning at 10:30 o'clock the presbytery will elect commissioners to represent it in the General Assembly, which meets in May, at Lewisburg, Va.

At 11:30 o'clock to-day, Rev. D. Clay Lilly, D. D., the new pastor of Grace Street Church, will deliver an address on "Foreign Missions." At the night session, Rev. D. H. Ralston, of Petersburg, will speak on "Home Missions." The afternoon session, from 3 to 5 o'clock, will be taken up with the examination of five young men, who are applying for license to preach.

EARWIG CAUSES TUMULT IN JAIL

Fay Declares He Would Not Have Remained in Prison if It Had Not Been Killed.

A lucky thing happened yesterday morning when Webb Sydnor, whose job it is to see that Eddie Fay and Dick Harris do not escape from the county jail, killed a gigantic—everything in connection with the post-office robbers is gigantic—centipede right in the same corridor with the cells in which the post-office robbers are held. "If that thing hadn't been killed," said Fay, "I would have left this place to-night. I can't stand them."

The murder of the centipede occurred when the prisoners were being given their dinner. And some dinner it was, too. Mrs. Dynes, the wife of Deputy Lynes, has the contract for furnishing the food for Fay and Harris, and it was about an appetizing meal as could be desired.

Eddie Fay has a yawn, which he seems to use almost continually these days, for it's dull in jail. It sounds like Bostock's lions on a stormy day. He was in the midst of that yawn when he cut it out with a snap and yelled, "Hit there! Kill that thing!"

Mr. Sydnor started, and Monty Angles, who was in the jail, jumped and looked, but could see nothing. "What's the matter," he called.

"There's an earwig there as big as a baccanistrator," yelled Fay, "and if you don't kill him I'm going to leave this place. I never could stand those things to save my life. I'm scared of them."

Then the earwig was killed and Fay promised to remain in jail just one more day, anyhow.

OLD LINE LEADERS KICK OVER TRACES

Vice-President and Treasurer of Suffrage Association at Outs With President.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—Two of the "old line leaders" in the National American Woman Suffrage Association kicked over the traces to-day and refused to follow the administration. Owing to opposition to certain of the policies of Rev. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the organization, Mrs. Rachel Plater Avery, first vice-president, and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, treasurer, resigned from their official positions. Both Mrs. Avery and Mrs. Upton consented to serve one month longer, but declared that their successors must be appointed by that time.

Miss Shaw is strongly in favor of having prominent society women, and women of wealth, identified actively with the suffrage work, while the two "insurgents," it is said, are opposed to this policy, believing that in the long run the movement will suffer more than it will gain by such help. Wherefore, although they had long been active upholders of the administration, they finally resolved to quit the organization.

Members of the Suffrage Association appeared to-day before the Woman Suffrage Committee of the Senate, and the Judiciary Committee of the House, to urge their cause.

Both committees were urged to vote on the proposition, the suffragists indicating that they would prefer unfavorable action to no action at all.

Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, of Ohio, had no little fun with the House committee by begging it to report upon the resolution providing for a constitutional amendment, allowing women to vote. She said that she represented merely "wifehood and household," and that she was "one of the best housekeepers in the room."

At the conclusion, the respective chairmen promised the speakers that their arguments and petitions would receive careful attention.

News of Washington Ward

Washington Ward Bureau, The Times-Dispatch, 1103 Hull Street.

The annual report of the Dixie Athletic Association from May, 1909, to May, 1910, follows: Gymnasium attendance, 2,699. The largest attendance for any one month was 402; library and games, 2,258; Bible classes and religious meetings combined, 1,635.

On the boys' three outings held 38 were taken; visitors, 15; four socials with attendance of 134; six committee meetings of boys with 82 present; general attendance of all, 7,458. Board of directors held five sessions with eighteen present. This makes the best report since the association was started, and is a gain of 117 over last year.

More than a score of boys have been personally advised, and a number have been brought into the churches through the Bible classes. Many boys have received direct attention in the gymnasium.

During the early part of the season fifty-three boys, a large percentage being working boys, slept in tents pitched beyond Forest Hill.

Otis Hinnant, one of the executive officers, had this to say last night about the association: "I have not attempted to recount all the things the association has done during the year. Nothing but the edges of its possibilities have been touched upon. The future of its work brightens day by day. Unlimited material is at its command, and its usefulness is only limited by the personal co-operation of the citizens."

The association's financial statement for the year is: Total subscriptions, $475; expenditures, secretary, $300; rent, $200; lights, heat, repairs, janitor and incidentals, $25 each; printing, $10; equipment, $15; total, $650; present indebtedness, $205.

Heavy Rain.
The heavy rains of the past few days have caused considerable damage here and in Chesterfield county. Gullies have been washed and foundations threatened.

Owing to the washouts on the Seaboard Air Line in Chesterfield county all passenger trains on that road were delayed Monday and yesterday to the Atlantic Coast Line.

The Thompson Grist Mill, at Swift Creek, in Chesterfield, was greatly damaged by the flood in that stream. Bradley's Bridge on the Woodpecker Road, Chesterfield, has been carried away by the high water.

CASE NOT DECIDED.
Judgment Will Be Given To-Day in Charges Against Charles Salpes.

Winston-Salem, N. C., April 19.—The case of the Commonwealth vs. Charles Salpes, charging him with the killing of Jennie Webster, colored, at her home on Ashe Street, early yesterday morning, was brought up in the Recorder's Court this morning. After all the evidence was in and had been summed up by Solicitor Womble, for the State, and Hon. Clement Manly, for the defendant, Recorder Hastings decided to leave the case open for judgment until to-morrow. The court has no jurisdiction in the case, and the judgment will, of course, be as to whether or not there is probable cause sufficient to bind the defendant over to the Superior Court.

SPRING MEETING OF CONVOCATION

Episcopal Church Organization
Convenes in Petersburg.

CITIZEN STRANGELY MISSING

Sheriff Galusha, of Dinwiddie, Narrowly Escapes Drowning.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 199 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., April 19.

The Central Convocation of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Southern Diocese of Virginia began its spring meeting here to-day in the Church of the Good Shepherd, the Rev. C. B. Bryan, the dean, presiding, and the Rev. F. G. Ribble, secretary. The opening service was devoted to worship, prayer being said and the sermon preached by the Rev. G. Wallace Ribble.

A business session of the convocation was held this afternoon in the parish house of St. Paul's Church, at which matters of interest to the church were considered. To-night divine service was conducted and a sermon delivered by the Rev. W. G. McDowell.

The territorial bounds of the convocation include the counties of Amelia, Appomattox, Brunswick, Buckingham, Charlotte, Chesterfield, Cumberland, Dinwiddie, Greensville, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Nottoway, Pittsylvania, Prince Edward, Prince George, Surry and Sussex with twenty-one clergymen, nearly all of whom are in attendance.

A Citizen Missing.
R. L. Jackson, whose home is on Route Street, in the western part of the city, has been unaccountably missing since Saturday evening. Mr. Jackson was employed at the Seward Trunk and Bag Factory, where he was paid and bagged his services Saturday afternoon. It is said that he paid his rent and rocery bill, left home about 7 o'clock, came downtown and visited his daughter, who is employed in a store, and since then has not been seen or heard from.

Mr. Jackson has a wife and several children and numerous relatives, who are very anxious about him, and who have made every effort to find some trace of him. He is about forty-three years old.

Narrow Escape From Drowning.
Sheriff J. W. Galusha, of Dinwiddie county, and a friend, Mr. Briggs, got a very cold bath and narrowly escaped from drowning in Saponey Creek in that county yesterday. They attempted to ford the creek, which was much swollen by reason of Sunday's rains. They miscalculated the depth and force of the current, and their buggy was swept away. Both could swim, however, and they saved themselves by grasping the branches of a tree and clinging thereto until rescued.

Robbery at Waverly.
Livesay's general merchandise store at Waverly was broken into and robbed last night. The thieves gained entrance by smashing the front plate glass window and then made their exit through the rear door. They stole, among other things, nineteen pairs of shoes and a lot of clothing. Bloodhounds were put on the trail this morning, with the result of the arrest of one man, who is suspected of complicity in the robbery.

The Proposed Officers' Encampment.
Secretary Finney, of the Chamber of Commerce; Major Benj. Harrison, of the Second Virginia Infantry, and Capt. W. L. Zimms, of the Petersburg Grays, went over to Richmond yesterday to consult with the Adjutant-General in reference to the proposed encampment for the Virginia Infantry officers. The Riverside Club has tendered a portion of its beautiful grounds in Dinwiddie, near Petersburg, for the camp. The Adjutant-General was out of the city, but the visitors had a pleasant and satisfactory conference with Colonel Dempsey, who will come over and inspect the Riverside Club grounds.

Personal and Otherwise.
Alfred T. Tucker, of this city, and Miss Nannie R. Chappell, of Sussex, were married yesterday at the home of the bride's mother, near Concord Church in that county, the Rev. J. O. Babbitt officiating.

William H. Cooper has resigned from the Board of Police Commissioners. At a meeting of the Police Commissioners yesterday afternoon leave of absence for thirty days was granted to Chief of Police Bagand, with the request that he take a trip to recuperate his health. The chief expects to take a sea voyage to Boston, and spend a portion of the time in that city.

The Supreme Court has refused to grant a writ of error in the case of Mrs. Alice Rogers against the City of Petersburg. Mrs. Rogers brought suit against the city for $5,000 for causing, as alleged, a nuisance on her property. The city demurred, the Hastings Court sustained the demurrer, and the plaintiff appealed to the Supreme Court.

At a meeting of the Civic League yesterday afternoon the question of "A Cleaning-Up Day" in Petersburg was discussed, and a committee was appointed to confer with the city manager for the purpose of designating a special day for a general "cleaning day."

The Council Tickets.
There will be contests for seats in the Common Council at the Democratic primary on April 28 in only two of the city wards—in the First Ward, where there are four candidates, and in the Second, where there are three, and only two in each case can be nominated. In these wards, therefore, a primary will have to be held, but in the other four wards, where there is no opposition, to primary will be unnecessary, and the Democratic committee will declare the men there offering to be the nominees.

Damages by the Floods.
The freshet in the Appomattox has fallen considerably to-day, and no damage was done here. The volume of water was as great as in the disastrous flood of a year ago last August, but its dangers were relieved by the dam at Pocahontas Bridge and by the diversion channel through Chesterfield county, which carried off the surplus fresher water and turned it into the river two or three miles below the city. In the harbor the water has reached a height but little above the high tide mark.

Bridges Washed Away.
Much damage was done along Swift Creek, in Chesterfield county. The Bradley, or Whitehead, bridge over the creek on the courthouse road, a wooden structure between 100 and 200 feet long, was swept away yesterday, and its destruction will cause much inconvenience in the county.

much more costly structure than the above, was also swept away. The last night strenuous efforts had been made to save it, but the logs coming down the stream struck against it and demolished it.

It is feared that many of the small bridges over the streams in Dinwiddie and adjoining counties have been destroyed.

ARMY OFFICER AT V. M. I.

Inspection of Cadets Made by Member of General Staff.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Lexington, Va., April 19.—Captain D. L. Lockridge, of the United States Army general staff, spent the past two days here inspecting the corps of cadets of the Virginia Military Institute. The cadets were put through various drills and rigidly inspected, and they participated in a sham battle.

General Nichols, superintendent, and Colonel Gieves, commandant, were much pleased with their showing before the inspector. He will make his report to the War Department.

Remarries His Wife.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Wilmington, N. C., April 19.—Here to-night John J. Hedrick, a former prominent citizen of Wilmington, but now of Tampa, Fla., remarried his wife, the ceremony being a quiet affair. He and his wife separated about ten years ago, and he went to reside in Tampa, where he now became a prominent citizen. He now claims his wife a second time, and has carried her to his Florida home.

THE DECLINE OF BROADWAY

And the Rise of Fifth Avenue, Upon Which is the Hotel St. Regis.

From the settlement of New Amsterdam by the Dutch until very recently Broadway has been considered the center of New York's commercial life and activity. But New York has grown beyond all imagined limits during its past history. It has outgrown the island of Manhattan, on which it was originally located, and its great interests have outgrown Broadway.

No single street is now big enough to contain all the activities of New York. The city is spreading out and the center of her life is gravitating naturally to her geographic center, Fifth Avenue. Upon this avenue, at Fifth Avenue, a hotel planned to be everything that a first-class hotel should be, with an unequalled convenience of location and accommodations, for the purpose of designating a special day for a general "cleaning day."

There will be contests for seats in the Common Council at the Democratic primary on April 28 in only two of the city wards—in the First Ward, where there are four candidates, and in the Second, where there are three, and only two in each case can be nominated. In these wards, therefore, a primary will have to be held, but in the other four wards, where there is no opposition, to primary will be unnecessary, and the Democratic committee will declare the men there offering to be the nominees.
